Textbooks: There are four required textbooks for this class:

- 1) The Rise and Decline of Nations by Mancur Olson (New Haven, CT: Yale University Press), 1984, reprint.
- 2) War, Peace and Prosperity in the Name of God by Murat Iyigun (Chicago, IL: The University of Chicago Press), 2015.
- 3) A Culture of Growth: The Origins of the Modern Economy by Joel Mokyr, (Princeton, NJ: Princeton University Press), 2017.
- 4) Rulers, Religion and Riches by Jared Rubin (Cambridge, UK, Cambridge University Press), 2017.

There will also be periodic assignments of published articles that will be e-mailed to the class or can be accessed via our library web links.

Course Objectives: Sustained economic growth is a relatively recent economic phenomenon that came about due to the Industrial Revolution and as a result of which the standards of living improved dramatically in the Anglo-Saxon West since the 18th century. However, global inequality has also risen to unprecedented levels because other parts of the world still significantly lag the West in economic, social and political terms. In this class, we shall study the comparative development paths of Anglo-Saxon Europe and the Middle East. In doing so, we shall primarily focus on the five books required for the class.

The class is also intended to provide an inside perspective on the writing of a book (War, Peace and Prosperity in the Name of God) by studying the literature, history and ideas that inspired various components and the key ideas which led to the book.

Assignments and Grading:

The final grade for the class will be determined as follows:

Take Home Midterm	30 %
Class Participation	30 %
Final Exam	40 %

No makeup exams or substitute grading assignments will be given. The only exceptions are covered by campus guidelines on absences due to religious observance (see below).

Exam Absence: If you fail to show up for an exam with out an acceptable excuse

Absences due to Religious Observance:

Campus policy regarding religious observance requires that faculty make every effort to reasonably and fairly deal with all students who, because of religious obligations, have conflicts with scheduled exams, assignments or required attendance. See full details at http://www.colorado.edu/policies/fac\_relig.htm. If you have a scheduling conflict covered by this policy, please let me know at least one week in advance so that we can reschedule the relevant assignment.

Academic Integrity:

All students of the University of Colorado at Boulder are responsible for knowing and adhering to the academic integrity policies of UCB. Violations of these policies may include: cheating, plagiarism, aid of academic dishonesty, fabrication, lying, bribery and threatening behavior. All incidents of academic misconduct should be reported to the Honor Code Council (honor@colorado.edu) or (303) 725-2273).
